

Chapter Notes for Chapter 19: Like a River Flowing

Information on soils from Bose & Gosh 1976 and Gupta 1980. The methods for using the clay soils of the Ganges valley to make bricks and pottery go back thousands of years. Piles of broken cups just like the ones mounting up at tea stalls today were left by the people there before the Aryan invasion. See Moon 1989.

References:

Bose, S. R., and P. P. Gosh. Agro Economic Survey of Bihar. Patna: B. K. Enterprise, 1976.

Moon, Sir Penderel. The British Conquest and Dominion of India. London: Duckworth, 1989.